SPRING SUMMER 2026

Fresh and light, like the season ready to welcome it: here is the new collection.

After a long winter, it's just what we need: the pleasure of an outdoor lunch where the sun's rays provide pleasant warmth.

The first daisies are peeking out on the lawn. As simple as they are beautiful, they perfectly embody how attention to small details can make all the difference.

The blue of the sky and the sea merge on the horizon, immediately transporting us to the first swims, the sand, the heat.

We recount with irony and lightheartedness a new chapter in our home, made up of colors and shapes that mix and surround us, always creating new suggestions.
